A. Livingston now practically controls the wholesale liquor trade of the city. He is continually adding to his stock and sells only standard brands. He is also introducing some excellent California wines to the people of Carson, as well as foreign and domestic cigars of the finest quality. Drop in and inspect his stock.

The snow shoveler will get in his work and his bill today; mostly his bill.

It is stated that a Carson attorney is about to wed—if one can judge by appearances.

The thermometer went seven degrees below zero at Elko last week. So says the Silver State.

It looked like it had cleared up last night about 10 o'clock, but then it only looked that way.

The preliminary examination of Frank Eastman has been postponed until the 2nd of December.

At present it looks as if Nye county will get away with the Silver State banner, with Humboldt a close second.

"Whiskers," the professional snow shoveler, who has been laying off all summer, now has a chance to work at his trade.

Commencing with Dec. 1st, 1892, I will sell jewelry, fancy goods and all Holiday goods at Auction Prices. J. G. Fox.

An exchange says not a mining whistle has blown for months, not a miner with his lunch bucket to be seen, pay days a rare thing of the past, and all because of the low price of silver, at Bellevue, Idaho.

The Examiner tells a story of some seed from the inside of an Egyptian mummy which grew a large wad of peas after being in the caticombs 2,000 years. All bosh! If you keep the seeds over a year that you get of the local druggist they won't sprout.

The New York Sun received a cable dispatch the other day which stated that 40,000 children in London go to school every morning without breakfast. That shows the generosity of our Democratic friends. They worked very hard up to election day to make it possible for those children to get breakfast, before they go to school, and when their plans are all completed and their ideas shall be reduced to absolute practice we trust that every child in London will have a hot breakfast before going to school but we are a little afraid that there are some children in New York that will be doing what the London children are doing now.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Mulder Goes Free.

The Grand Jury decided not to indict Mulder. A dozen witnesses testified to the various methods employed to fleece the public and he was clearly guilty of felony under the law. The Grand Jury however took into consideration the expense of bringing him back from a place so remote as Galveston, Texas and found no bill against him.

It is the general opinion in this community that he should have been indicted and brought back where a few years in the penitentiary would have been a wholesome lesson to him.

Families, desiring tamales, made by Mrs. Cornado, will please leave orders at Mrs. Peto Taylors restaurant.

THE STORM.

The Snow Coming Down in Sheets.

Yesterday the rain changed to snow with a fall in the temperature and the snow fell in such volume that at times it seemed to come down in sheets.

Some of the flakes were an inch across and so moist that they stuck to everything they touched, and the branches of the trees were soon loaded.

Such a rapid continuous fall has not been witnessed in Carson for years. There was no longer any doubt of winter being on deck in dead earnest when people saw the way the storm put in its heavy licks.

How long the thing will keep up the Lord only knows.

The weather reports from the Bay indicate that this is the big storm that played such havoc there, and the Signal Service says that the back of the storm is broken at that point, and clear weather may be expected.

The old sailors along the water front insist that the weather is shaping for a hurricane such as has not visited the Coast for fifty years. A hurricane means a wind velocity of 100 miles an hour. Such a wind would do millions of dollars damage to the country.

The big mountain range, however, would break the force of such a storm and it would not be apt to strike Nevada so heavily. At last accounts ten feet of snow had fallen at Bodie, six feet at the lake, seven feet at Summit, on the S. P. F. R., where all the available snow plows are out fighting their way through the drifts to keep the line clear.

The wires were down yesterday on the mountains, but the Eastern wires were working last night part of the time.

The V. & T. will put snow plows out today to keep the line clear. Aside from the temporary inconvenience all agree that a big storm now will do the country more good than harm, provided it does not fall so deep as to keep the stock on the ranges from eating and moving to water.

DIED.

In this City, November, 30, 1892, Benjamin Franklin Meder, a native of Brunswick, Maine, aged 52 years and 8 months.

[The funeral will take place to-day (Thursday) at 1 o'clock from the residence of his brother, C. D. Meder, east of the Capitol. Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend.]

Mr. Meder has resided for over 30 years in Carson City, where he was by trade a painter and paper hanger. He left many friends and no enemies in Carson. He leaves four brothers, Charles, John, James, and Louis Meder. The cause of his death was a stroke of apoplexy which occurred last Monday.

His death was announced yesterday morning by the tolling of the engine bell of the Warren Engine Co., of which he was a member.

A Blockade.

The five o'clock local to Virginia was blocked between Gold Hill and Virginia last evening, and consequently the passenger did not arrive in Carson last night from Virginia. Men are at work on the blockade and last night at 10 o'clock a snow plow was sent up. The wind was blowing a gale all the afternoon on the Comstock, and the snow is badly drifted. It is not expected that the blockade will be lifted before 10 o'clock today.

Albini and Maguire.

Next Friday evening the lovers of magic and mystery will have an opportunity of seeing Herbert Albini, the greatest of conjurers. He is a humorist, magician and mimic, and comes highly recommended. The Brooklyn papers say that Herman is a tyro compared to this artist. Miss Maguire sings songs of her own composition—words and music—and impersonates a variety of different characters.

An Important Case.

A case is now on the Supreme Court docket involving the right of the State Board of Assessors to make horizontal raises. The people of Nye do not feel that they can afford to advance the money necessary to fight the case as it involves the entire State. Would it not be a good plan for each county to subscribe pro rata, the amount necessary to prosecute the case?

THE GOLD CURE.

Here is the Celebrated Lignor Habit Prescription.

The following is taken by the Colusa Sun from the Oakland Tribune and recommended:

To the Editor of the Tribune—Sir: So much has been written regarding the Gold cure for drunkenness that we all know of the great good accomplished. My husband, who was a wreck for years, took treatment in an institute over three years ago and has no desire to touch liquor since, but it cost us over $100. I had a brother-in-law, a chemist, a slave to drink, but too poor to take treatment. He analyzed the medicine my husband brought home and cured himself. Four of our acquaintances got the prescription and cured themselves:

Electrolyzed gold, 15 grains; muriate of ammonia, 7½ grains; comp. fluid extract of cinchona, 4 grains; fluid extract of cocoa, 1½ ounces; glycerine, 1½ ounces; nitrate of strychnia, 1 grain; distilled water, 1½ ounces.

Take a teaspoonful every two hours for three weeks. After the second or third day there will be no desire for drink. Medicine to effect a cure will not cost over $3.50. I think every paper should help the poor by publishing this prescription.

THE SICK LIST.

Miss Nellie Sweeney is slightly better.

Ed. Peterson, in bed with fever, is improving.

The infant son of Chas. Wylie has the whooping cough.

Frank Murphy is getting along nicely, but is still very weak.

Mr. Patton is still very ill, but doing as well as can be expected.

Mrs. E. Aube, wife of the County Treasurer-elect, is very sick with the fever.

Matt Brannan is resting easy, but his brother Tom is now down with the fever.

"Bud" Barclay, who was taken down suddenly with pneumonia on Tuesday night at Mother's House, is being treated in Virginia. His condition is not much improved.

The Silver Outlook.

New York Nov. 30.—The Rothschilds already have their paid agents here to howl to for the repeal of the Sherman act (so-called) just as they had the biggest lobby ever known to procure the assassination of the silver in 1873. The idiots of Wall street, blind as Sampson at the mills of Gaza, are determined to work their own ruin. They think that if the bill is repealed, the money bag bankers abroad who undertake to run this country in finances, will come in and take some portion of the thousands of millions of new chromos off their hands. In this they are mistaken.

If the bill is repealed silver will decline, and with it wheat, cotton and all the great products of this country. These products are all the satellites of silver and this is proven by the fact that they have all declined in the wake of silver. Silver measured by any other product than gold, as you so admirably formulate it, will buy as much as it ever would, although outlawed and degraded to a commodity. Let Wall Street beware! With wheat at 60 cents and cotton at 5 cents, not only the West but Wall street will be bursted. Europe and the octopus may crack the whip over us and get our products at her own prices, but there will be breakers ahead. Balfour sees what the further decline in silver and the increased purchasing power of gold will do for England.

Circuit Court.

The case of Sam Brown vs. the Reno Electric Light and Power Co., was up before Judge Hawley yesterday. Brown sues to recover damages, alleging that the company removed certain property belonging to him at the expiration of a lease. The case will be continued today.

Musical Recital.

Next Tuesday evening, December 7, a musical recital will be given in Armory Hall by Mr. Geo. S. King, assisted by local talent. Mr. King has been a student in the Napa College Conservatory of Music for some time, and comes highly recommended from that institution. All invited. Admission, 50 cents.
